

NO PROGRESS MADE FOR SETTLEMENT IN MINING MIDDLE

Government Conciliators Fail to Find Way to Relieve Situation—Farrington says Agreement Between Miners and Operators Can Easily be Reached if Federal Ap- proval is Given.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 26.—Departure of John B. Lennon, one of the three department of labor conciliators for his home in Bloomington indicated tonight that attempts at "conciliation" temporarily at least, are stumped. The other two conciliators, William H. Rogers of Albia, Iowa, and John J. Walsh of Indianapolis, declared their conference with President Frank Farrington had produced no results. They have no plans as to future action.

New Mines at Work
President Farrington held out no promise for betterment of the strike situation. While local operators estimated the number of mines in the state at work to be about forty, Mr. Farrington's guess was "about twenty-five." There is no indication, he said, that the miners will resume work although the only orders going from him advise such a return.

Among the industries in Springfield already beginning to feel the pinch of the coal shortage are the ice cream factories. They have only enough fuel to make ice cream for four days more.

Other industries and the state institutions here are seeking vainly for coal. The Peoria mine upon which the state power house depends is down and its miners have withstood the efforts of President Farrington to get them to work again.

Farmers as well as city consumers of coal are complaining. In the midst of the threshing season, farmers in many central Illinois communities have exhausted their coal supplies and are without fuel to feed threshing machines. Reports of this condition have been made to local operators, but no promise of relief could be made.

Farrington's Statement
President Farrington of the Illinois Miners' union issued a statement this morning that "if Mr. Lewis will keep his hands off and the government will permit it, the operators and miners in this state can get together and within a very few hours work on a satisfactory arrangement that will result in resumption of mining in Illinois."

The statement alleged to have been made by International President Lewis to the effect that he would strike other districts outside of Illinois if the Illinois operators made any concessions to the Illinois miners, said the statement, "can have only one effect and that will be that every powerful interest in the country as well as governmental influences will combine and bring pressure to bear upon Illinois operators to prevent their making any concessions."

"There will be no necessity for Mr. Lewis to call a strike as he threatened, as the operators in the competing districts will, no doubt, make the same concessions made by Illinois operators, and the necessity for a strike will thus be avoided and the country assured a steady coal production during the winter."

No Price Increase Needed
"Every concession asked can be granted by the Illinois operators without increasing the present price paid by the public for coal. The only thing needed to straighten out the trouble is for the Federal government to permit the Illinois miners and operators to do get together."

"Public statements that the miners are asking time and a half for overtime and double time for Sundays have no foundation in fact."

"And as for the probable effect of a possible appeal by President Wilson, I do not care to offer any prediction, except to say that the Illinois miners are pretty well fed up on appeals and have now reached the point where they want something substantial."

"As for reports that the strike is the result of political ambition, I now repeat that I have no designs on nor am I an aspirant for the presidency of our International union."

Conditions in the Illinois coal field are not materially changed. A number of independent coal companies Mr. Farrington said had agreed to the demands of the shift hands, including payment of $2 a day increase.

Official figures tonight showed that the tax paid in the last 12 months had exceeded all estimates by approximately $300,000,000 and was nearly 75 per cent larger than the total paid in either of the war years of 1918 or 1919. Collections of this record-breaking assessment cost the government $29,750,000, or about 55 cents for each $100.

Revenues from income and excess profits taxes alone were $3,844,555,737, nearly $1,250,000,000 larger than in either of the last two years. An increase also was shown in receipts from miscellaneous taxes $1,465,729,136. These taxes totaled $1,243,941,362 and $855,591,700 for 1919 and 1918 respectively. New York state continued to lead as a taxpayer, its burden being $1,416,929,276, of which $1,135,097,432 came from the Wall Street district. The Chicago district paid all but $40,315,758 of the total Illinois taxes of $442,233,070.

DARING DAYLIGHT ROBBERIES IN CHICAGO MONDAY

Bandits and Express-men Battle

DAY'S HOLDUP LOSSES TOTAL $25,000

CHICAGO, July 26.—Two bandits and two express company paymasters were shot, and $25,000 stolen in two daring daylight robberies on the West Side within twenty minutes of each other this afternoon. All of the bandits escaped.

Earlier in the day two young men who have been holding up branches of a chain store grocery system perpetrated their fifteenth robbery within a month, escaping with $750. Five bandits in a touring car fought with three express company messengers in front of the Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing factory in the heart of the densely populated West Side and escaped with a steel box containing $10,000 after two of their number had been wounded.

More than fifty shots were exchanged while 200 pedestrians and employees of the factory looked on.

One of the robbers grabbed the box, but was shot down. A second bandit snatched up the money and threw it into the car, but was shot before he could follow and collapsed across the running board. His companions dragged the other wounded man into the machine and it dashed off with one injured man clinging to the running board.

A motorcycle policeman gave chase but lost the trail after several blocks.

Shortly after this three armed men drove up to the Peterson machine Works, almost at the edge of the loop district, and took $15,000 from Abe Nelson, a stockholder. He was in the office when the robbers entered and with drawn pistols, forced him to hand over the money. They escaped in an automobile.

JACK JOHNSON'S HOPES FOR FREEDOM DIMMED

May Remain in Joliet Jail for a Month—Judge Alschuler Refused to Hear Application for Bail.

Chicago, July 26.—Jack Johnson's hope of early freedom under bond was considerably dimmed tonight after every effort of his friends and attorneys had failed. Indications are that the former champion, who fled to Europe six years ago after being fined $10,000 and sentenced to Leavenworth penitentiary for a year and a day for violation of the Mann act, may remain in the Will county jail at Joliet for a month.

Judge Samuel Alschuler, of the United States district court today refused to hear an application for bail because Judge Carpenter, who sentenced Johnson, is in the city and the case should come before him. Johnson's attorneys went to Judge Carpenter's home where the judge is recovering from an operation performed last week, but were unable to get a hearing. The judge told them he might not be back at his office for a month.

At the Joliet jail "Lil' Arthur" was permitted to come to the door to be seen by friends. He has a private cell and sends outside for his meals. He was visited today by his white wife, his sisters and Frank Johnson, his brother, of Chicago.

Savings

FIFTY PER CENT IN NINETY DAYS

BOSTON, July 26.—A bar was placed today on the rush of people to give their money to Charles Ponzi, head of the Securities Exchange company, on his promise to repay their investment with fifty per cent profit in 45 days.

After a conference with District Attorney Pelletier, Ponzi, whose business is described as the exchanging of international reply coupons from one country to another, agreed to accept no further deposits until an auditor has examined his accounts which are said to run into millions.

For several weeks past crowds of persons have flocked to Ponzi's offices and given in their savings in exchange for notes of the Securities Exchange company for the principal plus 50 per cent, payable in ninety days. Ponzi is said to have paid off the notes in 45 days and there has been no complaint that any person has failed to receive money when due.

Ponzi describes his exchange system as being based on the use of the international reply coupon authorized under the international postal agreement as the medium for taking advantage of the differences in rates of exchange.

Preparations Being Made
For the Ceremonies
Thursday

SMITH COLLEGE PRES- IDENT TO PRESIDE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 26.—Republican party leaders gathered here tonight in preparation for the ceremonies tomorrow when Governor Coolidge will be formally notified of his nomination for vice president.

Speculation as to the character of his address was directed tonight towards the position he would take on the league of nations and the relative importance he would assign to his treatment of party policies on foreign affairs. It was taken for granted he would follow, broadly at least, the party platform and Senator Harding's address.

TO TAKE BETTER CARE OF DISABLED VETERANS

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Transfer of disabled service men from Saranac Lake, N. Y., to other institutions constitutes part of a general scheme to concentrate the veterans at institutions in which the government will be able to provide better treatment, Director Chalmers-Jones of the bureau of war risk insurance said tonight. Orders have been issued, he asserted to all district supervisors of the war risk bureau to encourage such transfers unless the men are in condition to be moved. He added that the wishes of the men would be consulted in all cases but that purely personal reasons would not be allowed to cause change in the program which would gather most of the 17,000 patients in a few hospitals.

ALLIES LOOK WITH SOME SUSPICION ON RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL

Fear Conference May Mean Quasi Recognition of Soviet

U. S. LIKELY TO BE MERELY OBSERVER

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Russia's proposal for a conference with the Allies in London was regarded unofficially here today as a skilful maneuver to effect a quasi recognition of the soviet regime. It was clear that unless some more urgent reason than now is apparent is given the United States will be in no haste to accept an invitation to join in such a conference. It was assumed here the United States would be asked to participate but opinion appeared to be that the specific issue—the cessation of war with Poland—might better be considered first by the principals.

The method suggested by Russia was regarded generally as a contrivance of the soviet authorities to use the Polish situation to advance their international status. The new move was pointed to as the latest of a long series of attempts at negotiations including the Prinkipo conference which never was held and the London conference regarding the resumption of trade with Russia which is yet to be held.

President Wilson, it was said today has kept informed regarding all developments. The position he will take was not even speculated upon by government officials, but it has been indicated that, unless he otherwise directed the attitude of the United States would be that of an interested observer and that for the present no expression of moral support or more active aid would be extended to the Poles.

Great Britain's lead in fathering the idea of a conference at London it is believed here will receive not altogether hearty support from France and Italy. In addition to discussions of the relations of the present soviet government with the world it is thought probable here that a conference also might develop into a determination of the problems due to Russia's participation in the war with Germany.

NATIONWIDE SEARCH STARTED FOR LEROY IN MURDER MYSTERY

Police Seeking Man
Whose Wife's Body
Found in Trunk

BIRMINGHAM MAN TELLS SOME FACTS

DETROIT, Mich., July 26.—Search for Eugene LeRoy whose wife's mutilated body was found in a trunk shipped from Detroit and New York, assumed nationwide proportions today. Police in every large city were asked to aid in the search after Patrolman Leo Trumbull, Detroit policeman, had failed to identify a man giving the name of Ray Millen held in Chicago.

Motive Is Sought.
That jealousy and revenge played a part in the murders the reported contention of Allen A. Tatum, now in Birmingham, Ala., and who told police there he knew Mrs. LeRoy intimately in Detroit several months ago. Tatum's name was written on the trunk. He expressed the belief, it is said, that LeRoy may have killed his wife thru jealousy when he learned she had been in Tatum's company and that Tatum's name was used on the trunk with revenge as the motive.

Detroit detective will bring Tatum to this city, if possible in an effort to throw light on LeRoy's whereabouts.

A second trunk believed to have sent to New York and thought to contain the vital organs of the murdered woman is being sought.

Positive identification of the dead woman was established the police say by Patrolman and Mrs. Trumbull, and others, who recognized clothing found in the trunk with the body as having belonged to Mrs. LeRoy.

Lived in South.
Police today indicated Mrs. LeRoy had been married previously to her marriage to LeRoy. It was said she was the divorced wife of a southern pugilist named Jackson. Her maiden name is said to have been Katherine Dixon and her home was in Starkville, Mississippi.

LeRoy's description, sent today to police departments in all large cities follows:
Age 23 or 24; height 5 feet 10½ inches; weight 145 pounds; smooth face; swarthy complexion; jet black hair, combed straight back; scar on left leg, teeth good, even.
When last seen LeRoy wore a dark green coat, green soft hat, silk shirt, bow tie and tan oxfords.

Birmingham, Ala., July 26.—Willingness to go in "conner" gave any information that he could to aid in clearing up the mysterious murder of Mrs. Eugene LeRoy, was expressed today by A. A. Tatum, linotype operator who has told the police here he knew Mrs. LeRoy.

A photograph and detailed description of Allan A. Tatum, a printer employee here, together with a statement by him, was sent today to the Detroit police. Tatum declared that he believes the woman whose body was found in a trunk in New York was Katherine Jackson, of Starkville, Miss.

Tatum Gave Facts.
Hearing that his name had been mentioned in connection with the trunk murder mystery, with the trunk murder mystery, and volunteered the information that he was acquainted with the Jackson woman; that he had gone to Detroit to see her at her own invitation and that he knew she had married a man named LeRoy.

Tatum said that the young woman had told him her husband was jealous of her. The statements of Tatum gave rise to a police theory that LeRoy had discovered his wife's interest in Tatum, that he had killed her and then shipped the body to "A. A. Tatum" to incriminate the man whom he thought to be his rival. Tatum is at liberty.

Mr. Cox also forgot that Mr. Cleveland's second Secretary of Agriculture was J. Sterling Morton an anti "dirt-farmer," whose report urged the abolition of the Department of Agriculture but who held on to the office he was convinced he could not make a useful one.

Results of a survey of New York City by the Interchurch World Movement has revealed that in order to be a thoroughly cosmopolitan in that city it is necessary to speak 32 different languages. The survey showed that number of tongues in daily use by an aggregate 1,700,000 persons.

Have you ever noticed that after a few days of tremendously hot weather that a decided change is almost certain to come. They say that in Chicago a period of extreme heat never continues for more than three days. Just about the same rule obtains down state. After a certain point of discomfort has been reached then relief comes. You can keep this comforting thought in mind the next time you are caught in the sweltering heat.

The coal mine shut down in Illinois doesn't cause near the worry and alarm now that would be certain if the time of year were different. A strike now with the lessening coal supply, worries the industrial and utility plants but causes little concern to the private consumer.

No doubt the loss of tonnage will mean a shortage later on and higher prices but the average consumer is concerned only with the present and is content with the feeling that the strike will certainly be settled long before he has any actual fuel need.

There is no altering the fact that 21 Democratic Senators voted for the Lodge reservations which the Democratic National Convention denounced. There is no wiping out the fact that 14 Democrats voted for the Lodge reservations covering the famous Article X, which President Wilson said was "cutting the heart out of the Covenant." Are these 21 and 14 Democrats real orthodox Democrats? The people are getting confused and perplexed. What will Candidate Cox do with these Democrats who refuse to run along with the White House mind?

Members of the Republican party and other citizens are looking forward with interest to the speech of Gov. Coolidge in acceptance of the nomination for the vice presidency on the Republican ticket. There is much more interest in this event than usually attaches to a vice presidential nomination.

The reason lies in the unusual strength and popularity of the nominee. All his public utterances have been of a kind to make certain that his speech of acceptance will be out of the ordinary and have in it much to challenge the thought of the American people.

It is true that most news items about farming that appear in print give the rosy side of farm life. It is the successes that are made a matter of public record but there is nothing unusual in this for it is the attractive and interesting features of any business which gain publicity.

The big business of farming would be given a black eye if failures and losses were emphasized and the disagreeable features of farm life held up constantly to view. The business would suffer and lands decrease in value if such a policy were followed. While the stories about big crops do give a one-sided view it is better for all concerned to get this view rather than one which might discourage interest in agriculture.

"A few years hence the spenders of today will have nothing to show for their extravagance but worn-out clothes, discarded automobiles, jewelry that is worth but a fraction of what was paid for it, and like souvenirs of former plenty.

"On the other hand, those buying good securities will then have investments bringing unusually high interest returns and worth substantially more than was paid for them. Furthermore, every dollar of interest or principal as it comes in will, under normal conditions, buy a great deal more of life's essentials or luxuries than it would buy today."

This statement of the existing investment situation is made by the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago in a statement entitled "The Best Use for Money Today" in which it says that "never has the present generation had a chance to buy high class investment securities as cheaply as now."

Rippling Rhymes By Wait Mason

AFTER CONVENTIONS

Historic now the great conventions, at which our fognhorn statesmen raved; both parties reek of those intentions with which the Hades' streets are paved. Both parties frown on those abuses which make our lives one long ordeal, and both would cook the sinful gooses of profiteers who gouge and steal. I listened to the keynote speeches, applauded when the stunts were done; "of all the pebbles on our beaches," I mused, "these statesmen take the bun." I'm glad our woes will soon be over, all finished on election day; oh, then we'll wade around in clover, and raise our glad hurroo, hurroo! Both parties give their sacred promise to cure all evils they can reach; for one, I am no doubting Thomas, discrediting a keynote speech. When two great parties are determined to make the world a better place, so seraphim, bewinged and ermined, might think its aspect no disgrace, to them I drink two brimming, beakers of tanglefoot (a home made brew); I heard their gifted keynote speakers, and know just what they plan to do.

REV. JAMES SMITH VISITS JACKSONVILLE

Rev. James Smith of St. Louis is a visitor with his cousin, Mrs. Landers on West State street. Mr. Smith has served longer in Missouri than any other Congregational minister he doesn't feel so very old yet. His is the Olive Branch church and it is doing a fine work.

Mr. Smith is chairman of the advisory board of the Southwest Indian conference and is on his way to attend the meeting. The territory covered by the board is New Mexico, Arizona and California. There are seven tribes of whom the Navajos are most numerous. They now number 35,000 and have gained in the past fifty years and Mr. Smith says that there are yet more than 250,000 in the United States and on the whole their number is increasing.

As has been so many times said, the treatment accorded the Indian is the shame of our government. Greedy capitalists and corrupt politicians have combined to wrest from the red man his best domains promised him till he has been pushed from place to place landing in the worst. Now Mr. Smith says the Navajos are even grudging the arid territory of Arizona that they occupy.

They are not yet paupers by any means. They are nomadic having large flocks and herds which they pasture as they can. Mr. Smith said that Roosevelt put in operation the Dawes act which politicians had held back for ten years and when Taft succeeded they tried to get him to go back on it but he wouldn't.

Mr. Smith had with him some remarkable photographs showing the great and beneficial influence of the gospel among the people with whom the mission labors. The transformation is simply marvelous showing what the work of the missionaries accomplishes. The Indians are changed from ignorance, filth and squalor to educated and well clothed, civilized people.

A treaty provides that each thirty Navajo Indians shall have school but not a third of them have one. Many more things might be added showing the good work of the missionaries and the injustice of the politician.

ANOTHER OLD STOVE

Saturday's Journal tells of a cook stove in use since 1876, but here's one still with a longer term of service.

Samuel Darley had a new range installed Wednesday that replaced a Forest Oak cook stove his father, Dawson Darley, bought in 1868, and which has been in continuous service ever since.

Fifteen years ago when Mr. Darley built a new house the old stove was connected with a 30 gallon kitchen tank by means of a pipe laid in the fire box. Recently those pipes burned out and a new range took its place, although the old stove itself is good yet.

MURRAYVILLE BOY HAS FOOT CUT OFF

Argus Durham Runs in Front of Mower and Suffers Bad Accident—Was Attended by Dr. F. A. Norris at Passavant Hospital.

Murrayville, Ill., July 26.—Argus Durham, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Durham, living on one of the William Osborne farms, three miles south of here, ran into a mower this afternoon about five o'clock and cut his foot almost entirely off.

He was chasing a rabbit in the field and darted into the path of the mower before Ed Fuller, who was driving, could stop the horses. The foot was left hanging by a small piece of skin only, the bone having been cut through.

Dr. J. H. Spencer was called and rendered first aid and then he and William Osborne brought the child to Passavant hospital at Jacksonville, where Dr. F. A. Norris was called to assist. It is hoped that the foot will be saved.

FARMING BUSINESS NOT ALWAYS EASY

Morgan County Farm Operator Says Newspapers Tell Only the Rosy Side—Small Yields Not Recorded.

"It is unfortunate," said a well known Morgan county farmer yesterday, "that only the unusual records made in farm production get into the papers. Whenever a farmer has a field of wheat that produces 35 or 40 bushels to the acre, you read about it in the press. If he happens to have a cornfield with a yield of 90 to 100 bushels, the farm news notes are certain to include reference to it. Then if another farmer sells his cattle or hogs at a price which means a big check in payment, you read most of the details in the papers."

Continuing, this same farmer said: "It is for this reason that many people gain a false idea of the farming business and think it tremendously profitable. These continued reports of success in raising crops and the securing of high prices tend to dissatisfy labor on the farm and also to dissatisfy workers in other lines of industry. They naturally judge farming by these special instances and do not take into account the poor or average yield in other fields. They do not give any attention to the losses that the livestock farmer has occasionally experienced thru disease."

"The fact is that just one side of the farmer's business is presented to the public and a false impression is thus given not only about the ease of the business but as to its profit."

There is a good deal of truth in this farmer's statement, for when you think about it the news stories published about farms do not deal with the failures but with successes. They don't deal with the average or the mediocre. Those news items refer to the unusual things in the farmer's business. The tendency of this kind of publicity has been to increase the value of land and to make the average lender feel that the safest and most profitable business is that which the farmer conducts.

While it is true that newspapers chronicle only the stories of special success, the same charge might readily be made against the strictly farm publications. Read one of these farm papers and you will find the records of the experience of men who have made a success of grain or livestock departments of farming. The stories in the farm papers and the newspapers are not exactly parallel, for in the farm journals the methods of procedure of the successful farmer are recorded, while in the newspapers it is only the more general facts. Nevertheless, it might be more beneficial to the farmer readers as a whole if these same journals would give the record of unsuccessful efforts in farming and livestock raising or at least ventures which have not paid anything more than the normal return.

But where is the unsuccessful farmer who cares to have the details of his failure noised about? It's not human nature for men to court publicity for their failures. So the chances are that newspapers will continue to publish facts about abnormal yields and the farm papers will continue to write about the men who make their conspicuous success of their farming and livestock operations.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE
SELLING FOR FARMERS

Farmers' National Selling
Agencies for Grain and Livestock to Be Considered at Meeting in Chicago, July 23-24
—Farmers Plan to Strengthen Local Organizations.

Chicago. — Plans for farmers' national selling agencies for grain and livestock, with a view toward curbing speculation and violent market fluctuations, will be considered at a meeting here, July 23 and 24. Public announcement of the conference was made today by the American Farm Bureau Federation, a farmers' organization with upwards of 1,250,000 members in 32 states.

According to J. W. Coverdale, secretary of the federation, this meeting promises to be the greatest conference on cooperative marketing of farm products ever held in the United States.

Among other organizations invited are the Grange, the Farmers' Union, Societies of Equity, co-operative grain dealers' association, cooperative livestock shippers' association, The Bureau of Markets of the U. S. department of agriculture, and marketing divisions of state agricultural departments and of agricultural colleges have also been invited.

"The American Farm Bureau is not directly engaged in marketing commodities," says the call, "but its purpose rather is to assist through its various agencies all real farmers' cooperative movements. It does stand unqualifiedly for the development of a unified marketing program serving the interests of American agriculture.

Grain and livestock interests are to meet in separate sessions.

Would Bring Lower Living Cost.

"If uniform plans of cooperative marketing result from this conference and are generally adopted by farmers, a material reduction in the cost of living together with a stabilization of prices should ensue," says the national farm bureau federation in a statement on the conference today. With reference to the cooperative movement among farmers the statement continues:

"Starting with the organization of cooperative grain elevators by farmers some 20 years ago, the idea of cooperative marketing has spread rapidly among farmers, particularly during recent years, and with notable success in many instances. It is now extended to fruit, vegetables, dairy products, livestock and other farm products. It is estimated that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, farm products to the value of more than one and half billion dollars were marketed through farmers' cooperative associations.

There are now more than 4,000 cooperative elevators in the grain growing regions of the country, and last year more than half the nation's grain was handled by them. Illinois alone has 540 farmers' elevator organizations operating 700 elevators at 600 different railroad stations. Last year they handled approximately 70 per cent of all the Illinois grain, or about 150 million bushels, at an estimated saving of over $3,000,000. In Minnesota by far the greater portion of the livestock is marketed cooperatively, and this is also done extensively in many other states. Last year a large portion of the wool clip was marketed cooperatively through 'wool pools,' which collected and graded the wool and sold it directly to the mills.

Would Ship Grain Direct.

"What the farmer now proposes to do is to strengthen their local organizations so as to be able to market their products gradually throughout the year, and to follow these products a little farther down the devious road which leads to the consumer. In the case of grain it is proposed to ship much of the crop direct from the country elevators to the consumers and distributors thus eliminating fully one-third of the present railroad handling of grain.

"The farmers contend that violent market fluctuations are as costly to the consumer as they are disastrous to farmers. Retail prices are more prone to follow the market peaks than the troughs, so that the consumer is more often paying on the basis of the market's high spots. He rarely gets full benefit of market slumps, but in the end he must pay the penalty for violent slumps. When wholesale market prices drop below the cost of production, many farmers are forced by financial reasons to cease production of that particular product. A later shortage and high prices are the result. On the other hand, a steady and profitable market guarantees increased production.

"It is a notable fact that cooperative marketing movements among farmers have been one of the greatest stimulants of improving farming practices, resulting in a better grade of products and the reduction of unnecessary loss.

Aaron Sapiro of San Francisco who represents 14 of the largest cooperative marketing associations in California will be one of the speakers.

BARN BURNS AT CHAPIN

Fire Started at 2 o'clock This (Tuesday) Morning — Barn Was Filled With Hay.

Chapin, July 27.—Fire which started at 2 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning, totally destroyed the large barn on the farm of Dr. J. H. Fountain in the northwest part of town.

It is not known what caused the fire. The barn is a large one and was filled with hay. The flames had gained great headway when discovered that the loss on the building and contents was practically total.

The flames soon spread to a barn and shed owned by Jerry Simpson just across the alley from the Fountain barn. These were destroyed and it was feared that Simpson's house would be destroyed.

At the time of going to press it was impossible to ascertain the loss and whether or not there was any stock burned. It is thought that the loss is fully covered by insurance.

Just about the time the fire started the fire department received an alarm that there was a fire on North Church street. However, none could be located and it is probable that the fire at Chapin was what caused the alarm.

RHEUMATISM'S PAINS ARE ALWAYS TREACHEROUS

Summer an Excellent Time to Combat the Disease

Some cases of Rheumatism give very little trouble to their victim during the summer season, and for this reason now is a most favorable time to take a course of treatment that will reach the cause of the trouble and remove it from the system.

Otherwise, with the very first cold, damp or disagreeable day, your pains will return and gradually increase in their severity, until you will soon again be in the clutches of this relentless disease.

Why not begin at once a systematic and sensible attack on the millions of tiny germs which cause your Rheumatism, and forever rout them from the system? This is the only way to get rid of the disease, for these germs are in the blood, and cannot be reached by liniments, lotions, and other local treatment.

S. S. S. has proven a splendid remedy for Rheumatism, especially that form of the disease which comes from germs in the blood. Being such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser, it routs the germs from the blood, thus removing the cause of your Rheumatism.

Government and City Health
Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days. Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

JERRY AKERS SHOT IN ALTERCATION AT QUINCY

Former Local Baseball Player is Seriously Wounded — Played Ball Here in 1906-07 and 08.

Quincy, Ill., July 26.—A. E. (Jerry) Akers, formerly a baseball pitcher with the Washington Americans and a son of Circuit Court Judge Albert Akers of this city, was shot and seriously wounded during an altercation with Joseph Kosyan this afternoon. The cause of the trouble could not be learned.

Akers signed to pitch for Jacksonville in 1906 when the city had a team in the old Kitty league and Frank Belt was manager. At that time he was only nineteen years of age. He had great natural ability and everything a pitcher needed and under the veteran Belt he soon developed into one of the best pitchers in the Kitty league. During that summer one of his best feats was winning a 1 to 0 fifteen inning game from Vincennes, the team that won the pennant that year. He was opposed by Farrell.

In 1907 Jacksonville joined the old Iowa league which blossomed into an eight club league by admitting Jacksonville, Kewanee and Quincy. That year Akers again proved one of Jacksonville's best pitchers. He hurled the famous 21 inning game against Burlington with "Betty" Green on the rubber, winning 5 to 4. Later in the season he again hooked up with Green in a 15 inning game and again emerged victorious.

Akers continued here under Harry Berte in 1908. Afterward he went to the Three Eye league and then to Washington in the American league. Tho he pitched some good ball for Washington he did not seem to be able to get into condition and was sent by that club to Toronto in the Eastern league.

He retired from the game some years ago and since then has been residing in Quincy. His father, Judge Albert Akers, is a baseball fan and always took a great pride in his son's ability. He frequently came to Jacksonville to see him pitch.

Akers was a most likeable man. He was genial and never inclined to be quarrelsome. He has many friends here among the fans who will unite in the hope that he will recover from his wounds.

ENJOYING STAY AT NORTHERN LAKE

A. C. Metcalf and family are now enjoying a vacation at Lake Owen, near Cable, Wis. This is their third stay at this delightfully located camp.

In a recent letter to a Jacksonville friend, Mr. Metcalf gave the following interesting account of the automobile journey from Jacksonville to Cable:

Our trip was made under exceptional difficulties, we left Jacksonville with Mrs. Metcalf and George, and Edwin Andrus Saye, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Saye on Saturday morning, July 3rd at 8 o'clock and arrived in Kewanee at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. We stayed in Kewanee with Mr. J. G. Hoffman, (a dry goods merchant) and family Saturday night. Early Sunday morning Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Curtis, supt. of Kewanee schools and our party started north. We went thru Dixon, Oregon, (did not take time to call at Mr. Lowden's farm) got into Rockford at noon where we had dinner. From Rockford we went thru Beloit and Janesville arriving at Madison at 5:15 there we had supper and enjoyed some of the beautiful drives in the state capitol going north again at 7 o'clock, we had hoped to reach Baraboo but the roads were dusty and much traveled. We reached the picturesque town of Sank City at 8 o'clock where we stopped for the night. This small city is a toll bridge over the Wisconsin river and has paid the cost of the bridge several times. The American Legion had celebrated the 4th in an elaborate way in Sank City on this Sunday, and over 3,000 cars had crossed the bridge at the time we drove over.

Found Going Bad. Up to this time our going had been good. As we left the next morning we began to experience the delights of driving across country as it began to rain and kept it up steadily all day long. We finally had to put on chains in spite of the hard roads and so made time slowly. We had dinner at Tomah then we encountered 40 miles of deep sand driving thru a desolate dreary region. I think the 40 miles could be shortened to about 30 if the road had been straight instead of serpentine, as it was we had to twist back and forth continuously till our shoulder muscles ached. We had at least expected to reach Eau Claire by night, but we were forced to stop at a little place called Augusta only making 135 miles our third day. We were up and away at 5 the next morning, getting to Eau Claire at 6:45, where we hunted up a garage and a restaurant. At the garage Mr. Hoffman's car needed some attention and we were detained in this bustling city until 11 o'clock. When we started out again in the driving rain reaching Chippewa Falls, at 11:45, when we had a rather soggy dinner. Still the rains descended and the winds blew and beat upon our cars and we continued our slippery way north, passing thru Chetek, Cameron and stopping at Rice Lake at 4 o'clock not caring to risk further into roads that we thought might be worse. So we walked around Rice Lake, tried fishing to no avail and then settled down for an uneasy night. To our delight the clouds began to get lighter and finally the stars came out giving promise of fair weather. We left Rice Lake the following morning at 7:30. Sun shining once more but the mud still present. As we drove along it dried rapidly so that we soon took off our chains, and begin to breathe more freely. Several wrecked cars were in the ditches as we came thru where some drivers had come to sorrow. At Long Lake we were obliged to detour going west thru Spooner and reaching our camp at Lake Seven, three miles from Cable, by 12:30. There we indeed drew a deep breath of relief as we had come just 684 miles from home and had had no trouble of any kind.

Is Wonderful Country. This is a wonderful country. All at once time covered with heavy white pine timber. This has all been cut over, the last of it taken away about 15 years ago. Now a thick second growth of birch, poplar and several varieties of evergreen has again covered the hills. Lake Seven is on the divide between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi basins. Water from Lake Seven empties into Lake Superior and 3 miles to the east it flows south to the Mississippi river.

We have had wonderful bass fishing. We have caught some 3 1/2 pound small mouth yet we have not broken any records so far. We are able to keep the entire camp in fish so you see we are able to still hold up our reputation. Numerous fine lakes nearby add to the zest and give variety of fishing, while trout streams are easy of access to those who enjoy that sport. Without exception this is the most satisfactory camp we have ever found. This makes our third year at the same place and we hope to return again.

It is also a mecca for the hay fever folks. All of the available space is engaged for August and September. No hay fever is not exhausted by reading this long drawn out letter.

Yours Sincerely, ALBERT C. METCALF.

Mrs. Masters received many useful gifts which will remain her on the occasion. All seemed to have a most enjoyable time and in the evening all left in good spirits, wishing Mrs. Masters many more happy returns of the day.

Surprise Party For Mrs. Martha Happy. The Woman's Relief Corps planned and carried a most pleasant surprise party on Mrs. Martha Happy at her home 455 South Clay avenue Monday afternoon. It was the 78th birthday of Mrs. Happy and she has been a member of the Corps for the past twenty two years.

The afternoon was spent in a social way songs were sung and readings were given and old time stories were told. While a faithful member of the Corps Mrs. Happy has not been able to attend meetings for the past few years on account of ill-health. The ladies all brought well filled baskets and the contents were enjoyed by all.

All had a splendid time and left wishing Mrs. Happy many more birthdays as enjoyable as the one just passed.

Story Family Reunion Was Held Sunday. Part of the families of Parish Conner Story and Vincent Story, brothers, born in Tennessee, emigrated to Illinois early in the last century—settles near Murrayville. Bought from the government a large tract of land and developed it. Active in all public enterprise. Early established a public school, and from among their children came some score or more of public school teachers, and there are still several teaching from among the younger generation.

Parish Garner Story was one of the trustees to purchase land for the present site of the Zion church southeast of Murrayville. From each family came also their full quota of soldier boys during the Civil war, and the one remaining son of Parish I. Story, who was present at the dinner, A. J. Story, popularly known now as Uncle Jack, was with the boys in the 101st regiment to the end of the war. He with his good wife, "Aunt Sarah" are now 78 years of age and in excellent health and all awake to present day activity in social, political and religious affairs.

There were present of the family of Vincent Story on grandson, George M. Story, and two great grandsons, Emory Story and Charles Curtis, and eight great grand children.

Of the family of Parish Story there was one son, A. J. Story, twelve grand children and twenty great grand children, and fifteen great great grand children.

These, together with other members of their families made up a happy party of one hundred and one people and they had a long table spread with what seemed to be something of every kind of food known to civilization in this section of the world. It was certainly a most enjoyable affair, and it is hoped others of the family not present this year may meet with us next year on a similar occasion.

DAVIS SWITCH Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Butler entertained a number of friends from Jacksonville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Large, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison and daughter Ida, all of Jacksonville, made a trip to the woods just south of Big Sandy one day recently and spent several hours in a very pleasant way. A bountiful picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon.

DEES KEEP UP WINNING STREAK

Take Diverson Into Camp by Score of 8 to 5—Visitors Were Always Dangerous—Locals Turned in Three Double Plays at Critical Moments.

Frank Smith's Dees kept up their winning streak when they took the Diverson team into camp by a score of 8 to 5. The visitors proved to be a hard hitting aggregation and pelted the ball to all corners of the lot.

However, the Dees turned in three double plays during the afternoon, two of them coming at critical moments and stopped Diverson rallies. Riggs also was steady in the pinches and this finally brought victory, the Diverson team was dangerous until the last man was out.

Diverson outbait the Dees but the locals made their hits count to better advantage, most of the bases on ball Henning issued being turned into runs. Happy DeFrates continued his hitting spree getting a single and a double beside walking once.

For Diverson, Dave Young pelted off a three fly smash and Dunham and Storey got doubles. The visitors errors and Henning's bases on balls were costly.

How the Runs Were Made.

Diverson took the lead in the first inning and it looked as tho the locals were in for another trimming. After Dunham had filed to Clark, Young tripled to right center. Turley hit to Briggs and Young was run down between third and home. Denny making the Turley second out while this was going on, McInerney hit to Denny who threw wild to first and Turley scored. McInerney going to second whence he scored on Storey's double. Radford singled but Wheeler stopped the scoring by grabbing Ingram's hopper.

The locals made one in their half of the first. Denny walked and was sacrificed along by Wheeler. Ruble's infield out put him on third and he scored when Ingram dropped Briggs long fly. Clark ended the inning by going out, Radford to Young.

Watkin was safe on Briggs' boot and took second on Henning's single. He went to third when DeFrates juggled the ball and scored on Dunham's out to Wheeler. The Dees got that run back in their half on DeFrates' walk and steal, a fielder's choice and Turley's error.

In the third the Dees took the lead and were never headed. Wheeler walked and was sacrificed to second by Ruble. Briggs walked. Clark moved them up with another sacrifice and both scored on DeFrates' single.

Both teams drew blanks in the fourth. In the fifth the Dees counted three more. Ruble walked and stole second. Briggs singled sending him over with the first counter of the inning. Briggs took second on throw to pan and went to third on Clark's sacrifice. DeFrates hit to Young and Briggs was caught at the Konetchy 1b. 4 0 2 9 0 0 0. Kilduff, 2b. 4 0 3 3 4 0 0. CITY COUNCIL TAKES UP HEAVY QUESTION

When Is Gambling Not Gambling? Subject of Much Discussion—Matter Came up in Reference to Street Fair—East State Street Paving Ordinance Passed

When is gambling not gambling? This momentous question was the subject for discussion at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening. The council was discussing the question to arrive at some intelligent decision in reference to the street fair showing here this week, and the one coming next week under the auspices of the American Legion.

The discussion came in connection with the merchandising concessions, or what is better known as paddle wheels. If the winner gets a ham or a side of bacon or several pounds of sugar and the other fellows are hoping and betting that they get it, but don't get anything it may be gambling. But the American people love to take a chance even when it is not much of a chance and a street fair without such things would be dry indeed to the average carnival attendant.

While the aldermen and mayor were discussing the question Chief of Police Kiloran went out to the carnival grounds and stopped all of the merchandise concessions and made the carnival look very much like the middle of the Sahara desert in a very dry season.

Aside from this discussion the council passed another ordinance for the paving of East State street. This required a great deal of courage when one considers the past history of the street. However there are many praying and hoping that the present pavement will go thru.

When roll was called by the clerk it showed all aldermen present except Alderman Williamson. Mayor Crabtree presiding. The minutes of the last regular and adjourned meetings were read and approved.

All properly approved claims were ordered paid. Alderman Chapin, chairman of the finance committee reported that bids for the sale of filtration, power plant and consolidated power and light plant bonds will be received Monday evening, August 2.

Alderman Moore reported that the Chicago & Alton railroad had recently blocked the East State street crossing for nearly three quarters of an hour.

Order Sidewalks Put Down. Alderman McGinnis said that people residing in Wolcott street had paid no attention to the ordinance for putting new sidewalks. He offered a motion which was seconded by Alderman Flynn that all streets where ordinances had been passed and the property owners had not complied with the ordinance, that the city proceed to advertise for bids to lay the walks. The motion carried.

Mayor Crabtree said that Mr. Elmer S. Bradney of 525 East Chambers street had asked to have a walk laid along the north side of the street.

This matter was referred to the Third Ward aldermen to investigate and report.

The matter of ground for the Old People's Home in Diamond Grove cemetery was referred to the cemetery committee and the mayor with power to act.

May Pave East State Street. An ordinance providing for the paving of East State street was read. The ordinance provided for a bid to be opened at 11 o'clock, and the estimated cost is $37,951. The ordinance was adopted with the emergency clause attached.

Then Mayor Crabtree brought up the matter of concessions for street fairs. He spoke of the carnival that was here this week and also of the one which is coming next week under the auspices of the American Legion. Mr. Crabtree said he had told the show people that they must run a clean show or they would not be permitted to run.

What Is Gambling?

W. E. Sullivan was present and spoke briefly. He said that he had always known that the owner of the carnival here this week as a man who conducted clean shows. He said that there was some difference of opinion as to what constituted gambling. However, he made it plain to the mayor and members of the council that his company was assisting only clean shows and trying to run the crooked people out of the business.

Ben Roodhouse, one of the Eli Company spoke. Mr. Roodhouse said Mr. Moss had told them he had a clean show, and they had known him for a number of years and had faith in his honesty. Mr. Roodhouse was of the opinion that every show in the country carried merchandise concessions but that he did not believe that they would be classed as gambling devices.

Alderman Chapin said that the paddle wheels were a cheap manner of gambling for the man who wanted to take a chance, but did not want to lose much.

Alderman Moore said that it all looked like gambling to him. He offered a motion that all carnivals be not allowed to have paddle wheels. There was no second to the motion, however.

Mayor Crabtree was of the opinion that the best thing to do was to place the matter in the hands of the police department and adopt a policy of "Watchful Waiting."

Alderman Cain balks. Alderman Cain chairman of the Police Committee objected to having the entire responsibility placed with the police department. He thought the council should indicate what it thought should be allowed to run and then the department would govern itself accordingly. Mr. Cain said that with the small number of police that it would be impossible to watch every concession and keep them from violating the law.

Mayor Crabtree declared all of the discussion out of order and

RUNS FLOUR MILL IN NEW ENGLAND

Roy Rawlings, Former Morgan County Resident Develops Business in Unusual Way on His Rhode Island Farm.

Roy Rawlings, a former resident of Morgan county, is here for a brief visit at the home of his father, J. H. Rawlings. He is accompanied by C. P. Cottrell of Haverhill, Mass., well known as a manufacturer of printing presses and otherwise interested in big business.

It was seven years ago that Mr. Rawlings left Morgan county with his family and established a home at Hope Valley, R. I., where he purchased 1200 acres of land. By the application of Central Illinois farming methods he made some wonderful changes in the condition of the farm he purchased and the example he set had its effect in all that community. The farming implements in common use here were little known in the Hope Valley area when Mr. Rawlings settled there, but now many of the tools used here are found upon the farms in that locality.

Corn for Johnny Cake. Mr. Rawlings himself uses a tractor along with other farming implements. Not all the farm is under cultivation, for there is a considerable portion of it in white pine timber. The cultivated land is in corn and a special type is grown there. White Cap Johnny cake flour is a special Rhode Island product, famous thru many states and it is White Cap corn for this flour that is grown on the Rawlings farm.

It is necessary to fertilize there and Mr. Rawlings uses phosphate and other chemicals. The necessity for using this fertilizer does not nearly bring the cost of farming operations up to the cost here, if the value of land is taken into account.

Two or three years ago Mr. Rawlings established a feed mill on his farm as there is a strong demand there for such feeds in the extensive dairies and from the lumber camps where many horses are constantly used. More recently the mill was enlarged and an elevator with 25,000 bushel capacity erected, so that both flour and mill feeds are now produced. Mr. Cottrell is financially interested in this mill and it is because of his general interest in farming operations that he is making the brief visit here with Mr. Rawlings. It is probable that while in Morgan county they will make arrangements for the shipment of a number of carloads of wheat to their Rhode Island elevator.

Use Fleet of Trucks. The White Cap Johnny cake flour that the mill produces is sold by the firm to jobbers and in some instances to retail stores. The Rhode Island country is very thickly populated and the flour is delivered by trucks to the retailers in a number of cities and towns. The special brand of flour manufactured is known as Ninigren, the name being that of an Indian said to have been the last of his tribe and long resident in that locality.

It is a whole wheat flour and another brand produced is for brown bread, for when you get into Rhode Island and Massachusetts territory the use of brown bread is much more general than it is here in the central states. Asked about some general conditions in Hope Valley area Mr. Rawlings said last night: "Of course farming operations are considerably different there from those here and in Illinois. It has long been difficult to keep workers on the farms there, because the demand for labor has been active in the towns and villages, the hours of labor shorter and the pay high. The workers have naturally left the farms because of the much more attractive opportunities in the villages. There are a great many people living on farms in Rhode Island. They carry on farm operations but those operations cost them more than the return."

No Acre Price. "The price of land has been twice doubled in the last ten years, but is now very low by comparison with the high priced land here in central Illinois. Land in Rhode Island is not as high as in Illinois. It is bounded for you by farms or streams and the number of acres is merely approximated. Only a small acreage is under fence. The white pine timber is valuable in that locality and can be recut every twenty years. White pine grows more rapidly than any other of the pine family."

The White Cap corn that I have mentioned is an individual type and is little grown in any other locality. The corn plants are not nearly so high as the common field corn here, the ears are smaller but there are more of them on each plant. Each grain is dented and the grains grow all around the end of the cob, giving it a sort of cap appearance which has resulted in the name. Fields have been known to produce 100 bushels to the acre with proper fertilization but the average is from 50 to 60 bushels."

Argentine Corn Poor. Asked about Argentine corn, Mr. Rawlings said that he had several times purchased Argentine corn but the results have not been satisfactory. The price is usually 15 or 20 cents below that asked for Illinois corn but the prevalence of a weevil in the corn has made it unsatisfactory for mill use at Hope Valley. It has been several years since Mr. Rawlings has visited Morgan county, for he finds that running a farm and a milling business keeps him exceedingly busy. He naturally counts himself as fortunate in being associated in the milling business with Mr. Cottrell, a man of great wealth and large business experience.
